The Company execute local and international orders through Bank of Valletta plc, and therefore the Company relies on the “Best Execution Policy” of the bank. When executing client orders the bank will take account of a range of execution factors. These factors are considered in the initial selection of execution venues and the ongoing review of performance of these execution venues. Ordinarily, total consideration, including price and cost, merits a high relative importance in achieving best execution. However, there may be circumstances when greater importance is given by the bank to other execution factors. These factors and their relative importance will be determined upon the characteristics of the order, prevailing market conditions, the characteristics of execution venues to which the client order can be directed, and the characteristics of the financial instruments which are the subject of the client order. The Bank will also determine the relative importance of the best execution factors based on experience and commercial judgement.

ZENITH does not have any close links or common ownership or arrangements concerning rebates with respect to any execution venue used by the bank to execute orders which would result in conflict of interest or inducement requirements under MiFID II, and in particular Article 24(9) MiFID II. The Company deals on behalf of Retail Clients, Professional Clients and Eligible Counterparties. Any differences in treatment are detailed in the company's Best Execution Policy. The Company recognises the importance of acting in accordance with the client's best interests and takes all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result when executing their orders.
